TOILERS LOSE THEIR WEEKLY OUTING.

WEIL-NIGH DESERTED.

Yesterday was cruelly hard upon the multitudes of workers in the city who have only. Sunday for breathing fresh air, bathing in the sunlight and feasting their feverish eyesupon sights of grass and trees, and the blue sky with its panorama of moving clouds. On every fine Sunday there is a great exodus by boat, by rail, by horse-car, by ferry, in every direction, but yesterlay was dulf and monotonous. From noon till nightfall there was a constant succession of drizzlug showers, and though there were intervals when the rain did not falls there was no time when the sky was not elsecured with gray clouds. The temperature was decidedly cool. At 3 p. m., the thermometer at Huduut's recorded only 64°. The wind blew steadily from the eastward, generally with a velocity of about fifteen miles an hour, rising occasionally in gutss to twenty-three miles au hour. The bad weather seemed to be local, for there were clear skices both north and south of New-York.

There was only one palliating circumstance about the rain. It began early enough in the day to prevent all but those in whom hopefulness has become a crime, from setting foot on boat or train. Coney Island was generally wretched. The proprietors of the "coasting bills" reckened severe colds as the chief part of the day's gains; the peanant and gingerbread purveyors clustered around the entrance to the iron pears for a while and then sought the besom of their families to repart their dampened stock; the roller-skating rink people alone retained a faint semblance of hilarity. To the Manhattan Beach and the Oriental Hotels the regular guests lent a partial air of bustle, but classwhere all was desolute. A few enthusiasts bobbed up and Jown awhile in the steel-gray water. But even they were noticeable for an absence of the usual playful auties penilar to the Coney Island surf bather. A hope the repart of the deserted pleasure haunts with the sad loaden sky covering all.

OTHER WORKMEN JOINING THE BRICKLAYERS—THE STRIKERS CONFIDENT.

There is every indication that the strike for nine hours will spread to all the building trades this week, and that either the nine hour rule will be established or a large number of men will be established or a large number of men will be established or a large number of men will be thrown out of work. A largely attended meeting of framers was held vesterday in the Tentonia Assembly Rooms at Sixteenth-st, and Third-ave. The subject of a reduction of the hours of labor was discussed and it was unanimously resolved to make the demand for nine hours this morning throughout the trade. The framers made a demand for an advance in pay on May I which was promptly acceded to. In consequence of this agreement it was resolved to voluntarily relinquish the advance of twenty-five cents a day, which was granted at that time, in conseleration of the reduction of hours. The framers anticipate no trouble with their employers. Their present rate of pay is $3.25 a day. Under the new rule they will get $3 a day. The stone masons have resolved to go on strike for nine hours a day, and will go out to-day or to-morrow. The hol-hiosting engineers hours, and expect it to be readily granted, without the necessity of a strike. There is a strong probabillity that the other trades will shortly follow.
The walking delegate of the Plasterers Union has

The bricklayers and laborers have the assurance of twelve additional bosses shat hey will grant the demands to-day, and, if they keep their word, 300 man of both unions will be put to work. It is asseried that the whole trouble is due to the efforts of John J. Turner and Mark Eidlitz, and a committeeot bricklayers bay been appointed to visit all the bosses and attempt to show them where they are

A number of carpenters in the employ of Contractor Graham, who is building a row of houses on Third-ave, between Forty-sifth and Forty-sixthests, went on strike last week to enforce a demand that they should be employed by the day lestead of the hour. The carpenters asserted that, under the hour system, they lost the benefit of the eight-hour rule on Saturday, and made up their minds that they would no longer submit to it. The contractor consented to the demand and the men will to return work to-day. MR. ROOSEVELT AMONG THE COWBOYS.

Theodore Roosevelt was found at his home in Madison-ave, on Saturday by a Tathuwe reporter, but was disinstined to talk about the political situation. He said: "I am perfectly willing to tell you what I know about hie in the West. I have just returned from my cattle ranch in extreme Western Dakota, and shall start back again next Monday, taking with me two Maino men who were my companions in several shooting trips on snow-shoes in the North woods. I like the West, and I like ranching life. On my last trip I was just three weeks on my ranch, and just tweaty-one days, of sixteen hours each, in the saddle, either after cattle—taking part in the 'round-up' or hunting. I have received life of the were sport, but make some use of the game. The last buffalo I shot was an old buff. I have been collecting a lot of heads with which to decorate the hall of my country home. I have precious little sympathy with Anglo-mania, and have always admired a thoroughly American sport like hunting of the large game of the West, with a Winchester or Sharp's rifle, on the back of one of the tough cayuses or bronchos. It would electrify some of my friends who have accused me of representing the kid-gloved element in politics if they could see me galloping over the plains day in and day out, that in a buckkin shirt and leather chaparajos, with a big sombrero on my head. For good healthy carrise I would strongly recommend some of our gleded youth to go West and try a short course of riding bucking ponies and assist at the branding of a lot of fexan steers.

"The cowboys are a much misrepresented class of people. It is a popular impression that when one goes among them he issust be prepared to shoot, But this is a false idea. I have taken part with them in the 'rounding-up, have caten, slept, hunted and herded cattle with lihem, and have never had any difficulty. If you choose to enter rum shops, or go on drinking sprees with them i or go on drinking sprees with them it is as easy to get mits a difficulty out there as it would be in New-York, or anywhere else. But if a man minds his own business, and at the same time shows that he is fully prepared to assert his rights—if he is neither a builty nor a coward, and keeps out of places in which he has no business to be, he will get along as well as in Fifth Avenne. I have found them a most brave and hospitable set of men. There is no use in trying to be overhearing with them, for they won't stand the least assumption of superiority, yet there are usuny places in our cities where I should feel less safe than I would among the wildest cowboys of the West."

DOINGS OF WORKINGMEN'S UNIONS.

The Central Labor Union held its regular meeting yesterday at Second-ave, and First-st. The Cigarmakers' Progressive Union reported that it had received permission from the Department of Internal Revenue to make cigars along the line of march. It suggested that a series of mass-meetings be held to show the popularity of the Sunday concerts in the parks. The house painters asserted that nearly all the work is their line on the public schools and about the parks was done by incompetent men, who were employed at low wages. They had called the attention of the Superintendent of the work is the work in the first could be shown that the work was not done according to contract the matter would be investigated. The paino makers denied that they had employed non-union musicians at their pionic, and were excuerated. The East Side Dry Goods Clerks' Union reported that it would hold a mass-meeting at Pythagoras Hall to-night, and would then parade in Avenue A and Avenue B, to induce the store-keepers there to close their stores at 7 o'clock. The committee on Workingmen's Hall reported a plan of organization. It provides that a corporation shall be organized with one delegate from thirteen unions, which shall be the board of managers. The money shall be raised by subscriptions for stock. Only members of bona fide trades organizations can become stockholders. A proclamation has been issued giving reasons why all laboring men should join in the demonstration on September 1. It has been ordered that 10,000 of them shall be printed in English and 5,000 in German. The committee appointed to confer with Superintendent Doane, of the steamer Plymouth Rock, reported that Mr. Doane offered to give an excursion on September 14 for the benefit of the Central Labor Union. Should more tickets be sold than sufficient to fill the boat on one day, additional excursions will be heid on succeeding days until all the tickets are used up. He will give the Central Labor Union fifty per cent. of the gross receipts, and will bear all the expenses himself.

A LAWYER FINED FOR CONTEMPT.

Officer Tancredi, of the Fifteenth Precinct, yesterday morning saw James McGrath, of No. 83 Sullivan-st., staggering through Washington Square. The policeman attempted to lead the man to the station house, but was resisted. Thereupon he clubbed McGrath in a most heartless manner. Morris W. Hart, a lawyer, of No. 25 Chambers-t, interfered, and the policeman took his prisoner to the Jefferson Market Police Court. When Hart, who had followed the pair to court, endeavored to get inside the bar he was denied admission by Court Officer Curry.

"I am a lawyer, and have a right inside the bar," said Mr. Hart, with much carnestness.

"You can't come in," said Officer Curry, pushing the lawyer back from the tron gate.

"Tell that man to sit down," said Justice Ford, looking up from some papers before him.

"Your Hower, I want to make a complaint against. Officer Tancredi for clubbing Mr. McGrath," shouted Mr. Hart.

Hart was arraigned and fined $10, which he paid and walked out of court. In the meantime Mcand walked out of court. In the meantime Grath was fined $10.

CARELUSS HANDLING OF A REVOLVER.

Much mystery was made in a report published yesterday, of what proves to be only another "didn't-know-it-was-leaded" case, which was taken to the Chambers street Hospital the preceding night, reflections being cast on the medical staff for implied negligence and in efficiency. The facts were that Austin Burrell, a scene artist, of No. 427 Fourth-ave., was taken to the hospital in a coach at 5:30 p. m., on Saturday by a friend, Tkomas A. R. Widlake, of No. 4 Morton-st., who drove away. Burrell had a bullet wound in the left chest below the heart, and was bleeding freely. His wounds were dressed by Dr. Powers, the house-surgeon, who visited him frequently during the night. Yesterday he pronounced the patient better, and in a fair way to receiver. Wellake gave himself up to the poince of the Fifth precinct, and was identified by the wounded man at the hospital. Book said the shooting was an accident. The men were on the steamer Jesse Hoyt, going to Long Branch, and Burrel was showing his revolver, a 22-calibre weapon, one barrel loaded, when it was accidentally discharged. Widlake was taken before Justice Smith, at the Tombs Police Court yesterday, and on this statement and a certificate from the hospital was discharged. CIGARMAKERS DRAWING TOGETHER.

A largely attended meeting of cigarmakers was held yesterday in Germania Assembly Rooms, 293 Bowery, to further consider the subject of a consolidation of the Progressive and International Unions. A number of speeches were made favoring the consolidation. A committee of five from each union was appointed to consult with the committee of the shop delegates, and to report some definite plan of action at a meeting to be held in two weeks. There is bittle doubt that an amicable arrangement will be arrived at.

About 100 cigarmakers employed by Emil Nev. at 222 East Thirty-seventh-st, were infortued last week that they would have to submit to a reduction of sixty cents a thousand on certain lines of cigars. A shop meeting was held and it was resolved that the reduction would not be accepted. Mr. Ney was informed of the meeting, but persisted in his determination to make the reduction and the men struck. The German bricklayers report that all their nen who are out of work have been put on the strike benefit list and receive $2 n day, while the strike lasts. An assessment of 50 cents a day was levied on all men at work to meet the expense. Offers of financial gid were received yesterday from various organizations throughout the city, and were accepted subject to the condition that they were not to be used tunless necessary. At a meeting of the Laborers' Central Council resolutions strongly denouncing Justice Ford for bis action in fining Delegate Thomas Lyons on Friday were passed.

At the office of the Central Cable Company, No. 16 Broadst. it was stated yesterday that the cable line had not suffered, but that the land line of the Angio-American Company was down. No report of its being repaired had been received up to the time. The Trimener reporter salled. "It is a wild country there," said the acting superintendent, "and a wagon might have to drive 100 males before the scene of the accident could be reached. But as that is the only outlet for St. John's, the work will doubtless be hastened as much as possible."

A BRUTAL TURTLE-BAITING MATCH.

A BRUTAL TURTLE-BAITING STATER.

A turtle-baiting match took place in a large barn near Clifton, Staten Island, on Saturday evening, between the two largest snapping turtles ion the island. The match, which was for $200, was between a turtle owned by a liquor dealer of Port Richmond and another owned by a liquor dealer of Clifton, the weighed 123 nounds, and measured tween a turtle owned by a liquor dealer of Port Richmond and another owned by a liquor dealer of Clifton. One weighed 123 pounds, and measured twenty-six inches across the back; the other weighed 108 pounds, and measured twenty-nine miches across the back. This kind of sport has become popular on Staten Island and 200 persons gathered to see the sport. A pit eight feet in circumference, with sides two feet high, was made and the turtles were placed in it. The only thing necessary to make snapping turtles light is to enrage them, after which they fight to the death. The handlers of the turtles, after produing their charges, with poles into a state of frenzy, got them close together and after they had once snapped at each other there was no need for further arging. These turtles had been fed on raw meat for two weeks and were considered to be in prime condition. After the first lifteen miguies lighting the Clifton turtle was minus a tail and the Port Richmond one had lost an eye. At the end of an hour the Clifton turtle was also a leg short and had a severe wound in the neck, and the Port Richmond turtle was suffering from a broken leg. The battle had raged for two nours and lifteen minutes when the Clifton representative succeeded in getting on the blind side of the one from Port Richmond, and as the Port Richmond inst, it was caught in the jaw of the other and the head bitten oil. head bitten off.
